

I was really shocked and wrote Luana. I said how can you do that?

She laughed and said you are very stupid and trusted me very fast.

I blocked both of them and I learnt to trust nobody on Facebook because they can't be your real friends.

Don't trust every one

One day a girl called Mary called me. She wanted to be friend with me. She asked me after my pictures. I said ok but delete them after you saw them.

He said that he has some pictures from me. I was shocked and said which pictures? He said all the pictures which you sent to my girlfriend.

One day we had a small fight. I can't remember what her boyfriend wrote me in his account.

I always thought that she deleted my pictures. But I thought wrong. I talked about everything with her because I thought she was the right friend for me.

She said ok, but she did not delete them. We wrote on Facebook. She had a boyfriend and they had the same Facebook password. That's why he saw my pictures too.
